Creator: Cass Gilbert Society

Collection Title: Cass Gilbert Society Video Collection

Dates: 1996-2017

Language: Materials in English.

Abstract: This video collection consists of digitized analog videotape programs that were recorded by the Cass Gilbert Society to document and preserve lectures held on the work and influence of architect Cass Gilbert. This collection is available to researchers through Cass Gilbert Society and also via the Minnesota Historical Society archive collection covering the Cass Gilbert Society activities. For more information see the website of the Cass Gilbert Society – <https://cassgilbertsociety.org>

Collection: Video source formats include: original and duplicate VHS, Hi8, miniDV, videotapes, duplicate copies on DVD-R's, and 1 digital native video file. Recordings are in mono and stereo audio, video is in color or black & white. Principal videographers were Herb Grika and Richard Velleu. Recordings were done between the year 1996 through 2017.

Locations: Recordings were made primarily in Minnesota in St. Paul and Minneapolis, with some tours recorded in New York City, Detroit, and St. Louis.

Historical Note

The Cass Gilbert Society's mission is to preserve and enhance the nation's cultural heritage through advancing scholarship and appreciation of Cass Gilbert's contribution to American architecture. The Cass Gilbert Society was incorporated in 1998. The organization is a registered 317A Minnesota private non-profit corporation with 501(c)3 tax-exempt status. Membership includes scholars, architects, owners of Cass Gilbert designed properties, and enthusiasts from New York City to the West Coast.

Architect Cass Gilbert spent the first twenty years of his career in Minnesota, and his buildings here remain a rich legacy. In 1895, Cass Gilbert was selected to design the new state capitol in St. Paul, Minnesota. Gilbert knew this would be the job to bring him national attention and would make his architectural career. In 1899, Gilbert won the commission for the U.S. Custom House in New York. He opened his New York office and moved there the same year. His St. Paul office would remain open until 1910. Gilbert would go on to build many buildings in New York including the West Street Building, the New York Life Insurance Company Building, the New York County Lawyers Association Building, the Brooklyn Army Terminal, and the U.S. Courthouse. In 1913, Gilbert completed the Woolworth Building in New York City. It would stand as the world's tallest building for over a decade. His career continued all over America. He worked on the capitol in Arkansas, and he designed the West Virginia Capitol. His last building was the U.S. Supreme Court Building in Washington D.C.
